NODAWAY IS UP IN RACE

County Agent Kinnaird Is Holding Up Returns on Scrub Bulls Displaced.

In response to requests for one more registered bull sale at Maryville, R. A. Kinnaird, county farm agent, has arranged a final sale to be held at 1 o'clock next Saturday afternoon in Gray's pavilion. It will be in connection with Hosmer's regular monthly sale.

This will be the last sale in the $2,000 Better Bulls campaign, although a series of pure bred Shorthorn sales may be held in the fall under the auspices of the newly organized Nodaway County Shorthorn Breeders' Association.

The following listings have been made with County Agent Kinnaird for the sale Saturday:

T. H. Acklin, Graham, one Shorthorn.

George M. McNeill, Graham, one Shorthorn.

George Burch, Graham, two Shorthorns.

G. A. Fite, Maryville, one Shorthorn.

C. T. Porter, Maryville, one Shorthorn.

Roy Kelly, Maryville, two Shorthorns.

Carl Kimbrell, Stanberry, two Angus.

Other animals may be listed before the time of the sale. Several of the bulls sold Saturday may go to replace scrubs at the top of herds and will count toward bringing the first prize of $1,000 to Nodaway county. County Agent Kinnaird is keeping his records very carefully and is not becoming excited over reports from other counties. Enough bulls have already been replaced in previous sales to give the county a place near the top, but Kinnaird will not report them until later in the race.

UNION STAR PUPILS PRESENT PROGRAM

MARYVILLE MEN ATTENDED MISSOURI COMMUNITY MEETING

HAD TO MAKE TWO TRIPS

Returned Here to Replace Burned-Out Bulb—Miss Mae Sturm, Teacher, Announces Honor Winners.

A Missouri community meeting was held last night at the Union Star School, three miles east of Skidmore. A crowd estimated at 150 attended the program given by the pupils of the school, which was followed by a showing of the Chamber of Commerce film.

R. P. Hosmer, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Secretary George A. Pickens, George Sillers, Ralph Marcell, Verne Pickens, W. L. Rhodes and Ernest Lunsford composed the party from Maryville. Mr. Hosmer made a short talk explaining the film before it was shown.

In preparing the moving picture machine for showing the film, it was found that the lamp was burned out. Sillers and Marcell made the trip back to Maryville, secured a new lamp and were back before the children's part of the program was over. The round trip, twelve miles each way, was made in fifty minutes.

The program given by the children was as follows:

Song, "Missouri Mine."—Older girls.

Paper, "Missouri, 1821-1921."—Bertha May Linville.

Explanation of a towel rack and stand.—Warren Caywood.

Recitation, "The Worm."—Margaret Sturm.

Explanation of folding ironing board.—Harlen DeWitt.

"Essay on Cats."—Yerman Jones.

Song, "The Swallow."—Little girls.

Recitation, "When Pa Begins to Shave."—Miriam Caywood.

Reading, "The Darkey's Mistake."—Martha Pfeiffer.

Paper, "Missouri's Resources."—Lucille Caywood.

Marie Imboden, Miriam Caywood and Lucille Caywood were announced as the winners of head marks in spelling. The following pupils were given prizes for not being tardy during the term: Oren Linville, Harlen DeWitt, Robert DeWitt, Logan Linville, Elmer Edwards, Earl Edwards, Eddie Smith, Martha Pfeiffer and Bertha May Linville.

After the program and the pictures, there was an ice cream social, the proceeds of which will go to the benefit of the school.

Miss Mae Sturm is the teacher at Union Star. She closed her first term there with a basket dinner at noon today. She has been re-employed for another year by the directors of the school.

James and Donna Helpey are visiting at the home of their sister, Mrs. Adolph Staples, and Mr. Staples at Burlington Junction.

INSURANCE RATES BELIEVED UNJUST

DESPITE BETTER PROTECTION, PREMIUM RATES ARE BOOSTED

$20,000 A YEAR MORE

New Rates Are From 9 Cents To $1.25 Higher—Business Men Want Rehearing

"The new fire insurance rates will cost the people of Maryville about $20,000 a year," said J. J. Heifner, one of the insurance agents of Maryville, in talking about the new rates to a representative of this paper today.

The rates have been increased 9 cents to $1.25 on the $100. No reductions have been made. Here are a few examples:

Sewell & Kramer Garage Co., old rates $2.87; new rate $4.39 on $100.

Montgomery-Cummins Clothing Co., old rate $1.45; new rate $1.54.

Townsend's (retail store), old rate $1.09, new rate $1.73.

The increase is made by the Missouri Inspection Bureau. It comes in face of increased fire protection through the installation of a large storage tank uptown and the fact that $50,000 was spent in improving the water plant. Assurances were given by the inspection bureau at the time the water plant was being improved that the proposed plans of the water company would greatly reduce fire losses and result in some advantage to property owners.

It was pointed out today that these new rates are higher than the rates at Ravenwood and Burlington Junction. Both of these towns are without a water plant.

Criticism of the Missouri Inspection Bureau have been made from time to time. Such a bureau was organized by a state law passed several years ago. Quite an agitation has been started to repeal this law as many are of the opinion that the bureau is largely responsible for unjust rates.

The business men of the city will probably take some action to get a hearing on the rates which were made effective May 28.

RECORDS SHOW NODAWAY COUNTY IS BONE DRY

Doctors and Druggists Have Written No Liquor Prescriptions Since July 1919.

No liquor prescriptions since July, 1919, are on file at the county clerk's office. Under the law, physicians and druggists must file with the county clerk for nearly two years. Nodaway County must be very dry.

The law requires that physicians take out permits to write liquor prescriptions, and these permits have been taken out by several.

GRADUATING CLASS IN ONE-ACT PLAYS

UNIQUE PRODUCTIONS WILL BE IN COLLEGE AUDITORIUM.

DIRECTED BY MISS DOW

Rehearsals Have Been Going on Since May 1—Costumes Ordered From Kansas City.

After a month of rehearsals the graduating class of the State Teachers College will present three one-act plays in the college auditorium Monday night. The class has been working on the plays under the direction of Miss Blanche Dow since May 1. They include a comedy, a drama and a fantasy.

The plays which will be presented are all of a different nature from any heretofore given in Maryville, according to Miss Dow, who is instructor in dramatics at the college. They are all royalty productions and have drawn large crowds in the cities. The costumes for the different acts have been ordered from Kansas City.

The first play, "The Merry Merry Cuckoo," is a little scene in a Welsh garden. Annie Dalben, an old lady, played by Alma Lucas, is washing on the day of the Monday meeting, much to the consternation of her religious neighbors, who inform her that she is going "quite on the downfall." David, Ladonia Murphy, her husband lies within the little cottage at the point of death and he longs to hear the cuckoo sing again before he dies. In desperation Annie practices the cuckoo song until she gets it so perfectly that he is deceived and made happy.

The other characters are: Welsh neighbors—Nell Hudson and Wave Huie.

Welsh pastor—Ferd Masters.

The second play, "Where But in America?" is a comedy on the serving and housing problem. Charles Wells, the young husband, in a fit of anger tells his wife that in this day and age women pay more attention to pleasing their husbands. To this his wife, Minnie James, replies with all sweetness and candor that perhaps he is right, "but really maids can leave one much easier than husbands and besides they are much harder to replace."

The last play, "The Maker of Dreams," is a musical fantasy in the story of Pierrot, Faye Townsend, and Pierrette, Mary Wooldridge, the strolling players. Pierrot searches continually, but unsuccessfully for the ideal woman, until the maker of dreams, Bernice Rutledge, opens his eyes to the fact that Pierrette is the girl whom he really loves.

This act is played to music written especially for its production. Prof. C. D. Kutsechinski of the conservatory of music and Miss Alice Welling will play for this act.

Music between the acts will be furnished by the college orchestra. Tickets are on sale at the college or can be procured from any one of the college seniors.

To Battle Creek, Mich.

George T. Smith left this morning for Battle Creek, Mich., where he has accepted a position in the advertising department of the Kellogg Cereal Products Company. Smith will return to Maryville in the fall to continue his school work.

Raymond Barry went to Omaha, Neb., today where he will be employed during the summer.

LEAVES RICHES TO LIFE LONG FRIEND

MRS. R. C. ANTHONY IS BENEFICIARY OF HUGG BEQUEST

LAND VALUED AT $96,000

Will Receive Farm of 480 Acres in Rich Illinois District, Advises Say.

Four hundred and eighty acres of the best farming land in Illinois is to become the property of Mrs. R. C. Anthony by the terms of the bequest of an old friend, according to advices received here recently.

The land is part of the estate of Mrs. Addie Simpson, who before her marriage lived with Mr. and Mrs. Anthony. It is 28 miles northwest of Peoria, Ill., and is valued at $200 an acre, making the total value of the gift to Mrs. Anthony almost $100,000.

The estate has not yet been settled, but Mrs. Anthony has received assurance that the land is to come to her free from encumbrance or restriction of any kind.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony live on South Railroad street. The latter has lived in Maryville all her life. Before her marriage, twenty-five years ago, she was Miss Nannie Moormoo, a bosom friend of the girl who later became Mrs. Addie Simpson.

"I don't know just what we will do with the property," said Mrs. Anthony to a Democrat-Forum reporter this morning. "I've never had any experience in farm life and don't know whether I would make a very successful farm, or that I could enjoy rural life as well as the one I have been accustomed to. I don't think we will ever farm the land. I guess we can sell it, though."

BODY OF ALVIN DUNN EXPECTED HOME FRIDAY

Funeral Services Will Be Held At Barnard Sunday With Military Rites.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Dunn living west of Barnard received word today that the body of their son, Alvin M. Dunn, who died in France while in military service, left New York this morning and would probably arrive at Barnard sometime Friday.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at the Dunn home. The Seth Ray David Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the James Edward Gray Post of the American Legion and the Graham Legion post will have charge of the burial rites. The body will be buried in the Graham cemetery. All ex-service men are asked to attend in uniform. The Rev. A. S. Olsen will conduct the religious rites.

Dunn was in Co. 1, 353d Inf., 89th Division. While in action he was wounded and gassed on November 1, 1918. He was taken to a hospital and there took pneumonia and died on December 31, 1918.

S. T. C. ENROLLMENT 469, STUDENTS STILL COMING

Maryville Furnishes More Than Enough Rooms For Students Despite Large Enrollment.

The paid enrollment for the summer term of the State Teachers College at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon was 469. The enrollment at the same time yesterday afternoon was 410. It is expected that new students will be enrolling until next week, and that the six hundred mark will be easily reached.

Chas. Merrin reports to the Chamber of Commerce that she has been having fine success so far in getting summer term students what they want in the way of rooms and board.

The people of Maryville are to be complimented upon the way they have responded to the request that they open up their homes to students, she says. They have made it possible to take care of a larger number than before with little inconvenience to the students.

"Maryville's reputation as a town of homes and hospitable people has been borne out in the way our citizens have helped out by listing their rooms for the track meet, summer term and the teachers' association meet," says the Chamber of Commerce.

Guests at Heifner Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bowen of St. Joseph visited in Maryville yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Heifner.

OFFICIALS WILL TRY TO PACIFY CHURCH FACTIONS

Quitman Sunday School Proponents Find Church Doors Padlocked When They Come to Church.

Prosecuting Attorney Charles F. McCaffrey, the Rev. R. E. Snodgrass and G. B. Roseberry of Maryville and the Rev. S. D. Harlan of Graham are in Quitman today to settle difficulties in the Christian church of that town.

It seems that one faction of the church has been holding and want to have Sunday school each Sunday while the other faction seems to be opposed to them holding it in the church. Quitman is supplied twice a month, the first and third Sunday afternoons, by the Rev. Mr. Maxwell of Burlington Junction.

A week ago last Sunday the church doors were locked with padlocks and friends of the Sunday school were unable to get into the church. A Sunday school was held at the hotel in that town.

The estate has not yet been settled, but Mrs. Anthony has received assurance that the land is to come to her free from encumbrance or restriction of any kind.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony live on South Railroad street. The latter has lived in Maryville all her life. Before her marriage, twenty-five years ago, she was Miss Nannie Moormoo, a bosom friend of the girl who later became Mrs. Addie Simpson.

"I don't know just what we will do with the property," said Mrs. Anthony to a Democrat-Forum reporter this morning. "I've never had any experience in farm life and don't know whether I would make a very successful farm, or that I could enjoy rural life as well as the one I have been accustomed to. I don't think we will ever farm the land. I guess we can sell it, though."

RAILROAD WAGES CUT 12 PER CENT

WILL SAVE ROADS FOUR HUNDRED MILLIONS

SECTION MEN HARD HIT

Unskilled Labor Is Reduced 18 Per Cent—Unions Will Meet July 1.

Chicago, June 1.—Four hundred million dollars a year will be slashed from the nation's railway wage bill when an order handed down today by the United States railroad labor board takes full effect. The decree is effective July 1 on 194 lines. Granting the petitions of the companies, the board will direct an average cut of 12 per cent, which eventually will apply to all the railroad employees of the country. Members of thirty-one unions are affected immediately.

The cuts range from 5 to 13 cents an hour, or from $10.20 a month for apprentice boys to $26.52 for the better-paid skilled labor, figuring on an eight-hour day basis.

The decision granted reductions varying from 5 to 18 per cent, and, in the case of section laborers, completely wiped out the increase granted that class of employees by the $600,000,000 wage award of July 20, 1920. Section men, who have been receiving $3.70 for an eight hour day, were cut to the same figure in effect under federal control. The reduction was approximately 18 per cent. Switchmen and shop crafts were given a 9 per cent reduction, while the train service men were cut approximately 7 per cent. Car repairers were cut about 10 per cent.

May Affect Other Roads Later

While the decrease is specifically applied for the present only to the 194 roads whose cases have been heard by the board, the decision says it may later be applied to any other road asking a hearing in accordance with the provisions of the Esch-Cummins transportation act.

The decision is based on the present rates of pay as established by the $600,000,000 wage award of June 20, 1920. Common labor pay, over which the railroads made their hardest fight, is to be reduced 6 to 8½ cents an hour, cutting freight truckers average monthly wages to $97.10 and track laborers to $77.11. This new schedule still gives section men an average daily wage of $3.92 for an eight-hour day, although considerable testimony offered by the roads, particularly in the south, showed common labor wages as low as $1.50 for a ten-hour day.

Train dispatchers and yardmasters, whose monthly earnings at present average $260 to $270, are cut 8-cents an hour.

The smallest deduction will apply to office boys and other employees (Continued on page 2)

WHITES AND BLACKS BATTLE AT TULSA

FIERCE RACE RIOTING RAGES IN SOUTHERN CITY.

NEGRO SECTION BURNING

With Death Toll More Than Sixty Troops Are Ordered Out To Enforce Martial Law.

Tulsa, June 1.—The fire this afternoon was under control after having burned four residential blocks and six business blocks in the negro districts.

Martial law has been proclaimed and Governor Robertson is enroute to take personal charge of troops.

Oklahoma City, June 1.—A proclamation for martial law for Tulsa is being prepared today by Governor Robertson. The national guard units are being mobilized at Okmulgee and Vinita and the guard units here have also been ordered to hold themselves in readiness for emergencies. Reports are current here that the negroes here are buying ammunition to send to Tulsa.

Tulsa, June 1.—The entire negro section of this city is in flames at noon today as a result of twenty hours of bloody race rioting. The death toll so far probably will total more than sixty white and blacks. Seven whites are known to be dead. The police estimate two hundred blacks are seriously wounded.

The fires started by bands of roving whites are expected to destroy the entire negro settlement of fifteen hundred homes. The city fire department which responded to the fire when it first broke out, was driven away by the mobs of whites.

All negroes are being arrested. The Tulsa base ball park is being used as a temporary prison. General fighting has died out but sporadic firing continues.

Tulsa, June 1.—After ten hours of fierce race rioting this city is a scene of chaos today. Both negroes and whites are terrorized.

The trouble is believed to have been started when a negro was arrested late yesterday for an alleged assault upon a white girl. The negro was stopped by an officer and his revolver was taken away from him. The negro resisted arrest and was shot and killed.

Three companies of Tulsa militia are patrolling the streets today but are unable to cope with the situation. Two other companies are enroute from Oklahoma City to assist in quelling the rioting.

The known white dead was placed this morning at five. The negro casualties are unknown but will run high. All of the houses of the black belt are being entered one at a time. The women are ordered into the streets and the negro men who fail to surrender on the instant are shot down. Convention Hall is packed to overflowing with negro prisoners. Fierce fighting continues with no signs of abatement.

STATE LIQUOR LAWS VALID IF NOT IN CONFLICT

Washington, June 1.—Federal and state laws regulating the liquor traffic which are not inconsistent of in conflict with the Volstead act are valid and effective, the supreme court of the United States decided today. The issues were raised in the case of Bozo Youghnovich on an appeal brought by the United States involving the legality of taxes on lawfully manufactured liquor.

Mart Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Evans, went to Des Moines, Ia., today where he has accepted a position.

A Perfect Credit Man, But!!!

A New York retail establishment had a credit man who was regarded as the Very Best. He took his firm through an entire year without one bad account. Not a single worthless check did he O. K. in a twelve-month; not one credit customer accepted by him failed to pay promptly. The credit man had a perfect score.

And so at the end of the year his employers fired him.

Why? Because he wasn't worth his desk space. Because he deserved to be fired. He was so conservative and carried Safety First to such extremes that he cost his firm thousands of dollars. He accepted only those accounts which were so obviously good that no skill whatever was required in recognizing them as safe. But he turned down hundreds of others, almost equally desirable, simply because he didn't know how to find out whether they were good or bad. All he really accomplished a child could have done. It is not difficult to find out that which everybody knows. The trick is to flush out and make capital of facts not visible to the naked eye.

An investigation disclosed that thoroughly honest, reliable buyers, refused credit by this man, had spent something like $250,000 in other stores.

No wonder the credit man got fired!—Fred Kelly in the Nation's

CODE OF ETHICS FOR
MISSOURI JOURNALISTS

The Missouri Press Association, at a meeting Friday afternoon in Columbia, adopted the following code of ethics, formulated by William Southern, Jr., editor of the Independence Examiner.

Preamble

In America, where the stability of the government rests upon the approval of the people, it is essential that newspapers, the medium through which the people draw their information, be developed to a high point of efficiency, stability, impartiality and integrity. The future of the republic depends on the maintenance of a higher standard among journalists. Such a standard can not be maintained unless the motives and conduct of the members of our profession are such as merit approval and confidence.

The Profession of Journalism is entitled to stand side by side with the other learned professions and is, far more than any other, interwoven with the lines of public service. The Journalist can not consider his profession rightly unless he recognizes his obligation to the public. A newspaper does not belong solely to its owner, and is not fulfilling its highest functions if developed selfishly.
Therefore, the Missouri Press Association presents the following principles as a general guide, not as a set form of rules, for the practice of Journalism.

Editorial

We declare as a fundamental principle that Truth is the basis of all correct Journalism. To go beyond the truth, either in headline or text, is subversive of good Journalism. To suppress the truth, when it properly belongs to the public, is a betrayal of public faith.

Editorial comment should always be fair and not controlled by business or political expediences. Nothing should be printed editorially which the writer will not readily acknowledge as his own in public.

Control of news or comment for business considerations is not worthy of a newspaper. The news should be covered, written and interpreted wholly and at all times in the interest of the public. Advertisers have no claims on newspaper favor except in their capacity as readers and as members of the community.

No person who controls the policy of a newspaper should at the same time hold office or have affiliations, the duties of which conflict with the public service that his newspaper should render.

Advertising

It is not good ethics nor good business to accept advertisements that are dishonest, deceptive or misleading. Concerns or individuals who want to use our columns to sell questionable stock or anything else which promises great returns for small investment should be always investigated. Our readers should be protected from advertising sharks. Rates should be fixed at a figure which will yield a profit and never cut. The reader deserves a square deal and the advertiser the same kind of treatment.

Advertising disguised as news or editorial should not be accepted. Political advertising especially should show at a glance that it is advertising. It is just as bad to be bribed by the promise of political patronage

as to be bribed by political cash.

To tear down a competitor in order to build up oneself is not good business, nor is it ethical. Newspaper controversies should never enter newspaper columns. Good business demands the same treatment to a competitor that one would like for a competitor to give to himself. Create new business rather than try to take away that of another.

Advertising should never be demanded from another customer simply because he has given it to another paper. Merit, product and service should be the standard.

Subscription

The claiming of more subscribers than are actually on the paid list in order to secure larger advertising prices is obtaining money under false pretense. The advertiser is entitled to know just what he is getting for his money, just what the newspaper is selling to him. Subscription lists made up at nominal prices or secured by means of premiums or contests are to be strictly avoided.

Summary

In every line of journalistic endeavor we recognize and proclaim our obligation to the public, our duty to regard always the truth, to deal justly and walk humbly before the gospel of unselfish service.

Beauty Is Harmony

There can be no harmony, and therefore no beauty, in a home in which the wife and mother is cross and ir-not, disease is at the bottom of such a condition.

and who suffers from low spirits and mysterious aches and pains, only

LEESON WILL HEAD POLK TOWNSHIP SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Officers Are Elected At Banquet And Institute Held At Christian Church Last Night.

C. C. Leeson was elected to head District No. 9 of the Nodaway County Sunday School Association at the banquet and institute held at the First Christian Church last night. The Rev. Thomas Young of Bedison was elected vice-president. Other officers for the district, which is Polk Township, were chosen as follows:

Secretary, Mrs. D. D. Miller.
Treasurer, D. E. Hotchkiss.
Children's division superintendent, Mrs. Ellis Cook.

Young people's division superintendent, boys, T. H. Leet.
Young people's division superintendent, Alfred Estes.

All except two Sunday schools in the district were represented at the institute. Those who sent delegates were the Christian, Baptist, First Methodist, Presbyterian and M. E. South of Maryville, Rockford Methodist, Myrtle Tree Methodist, Wilcox M. E. South, and Wilcox Christian. The Mount Ayr Christian, which is closed, and the Bedison Christian Sunday schools were the only ones not represented.

About fifty-five guests were present at the banquet which preceded the institute. The Rev. J. A. Cooper made a short inspirational talk on Sunday school work, and Miss L. Anna Owens gave an account of her work, together with two of the poems for which she has become widely known. Music was furnished by an Edison phonograph loaned by the Rhodes Music Shop.

The dinner was served by the Berean class of the First Christian church, of which Miss Fannie Hope is teacher. Mrs. Ed Hamlin was in charge of the banquet arrangements.

The old officers of the district were as follows:

President, Fred French; vice-president, the Rev. Thomas Young; secretary, Miss Bertha Anderson; treasurer, D. E. Hotchkiss; children's division superintendent, Ellis Cook; young people's superintendent, Miss Hazel Peery and Mrs. Ernest Wray; adult and home superintendent, Miss Lida Cnstedt; administration superintendent, C. C. Leeson.

The Minnesota house of representatives has passed a bill to the effect that persons supplying newspapers with false information for publication will be guilty of a misdemeanor.

COUNTY UNIT PROBLEMS

In his attack on the county unit bill Representative O. B. Whitaker of Hickory County, a Republican, has issued the following circular which bears the heading "County Unit Problems."

Problem 1. County Board submits proposition to vote 65 cent levy. Falls to carry. No state aid available. County Board can levy only 40 cents, which is only half enough to provide common school education in the "county unit even with the cheapest teachers. Yet out of even this fund the County Board must pay the full high school tuition (unless they establish a high school in the "county school district"—which would be impossible under the circumstances) of everyone eligible to high school and desiring to attend at whatever high school the "parents or guardians of the children entitled to high school instruction" may wish; also the salaries and expenses of "such assistants, supervisors, attendance officers and other employees of the county district as in the judgement of the county board may be necessary;" and the salaries and expenses of the six members of the county board—solve.

Problem 2. A school house burns. County Board naturally and wisely wishes to replace with a modern model, up-to-date house. Entire "County unit" must be bonded for funds by a vote of two to one.—Solve. P. S. Be careful, there is nothing in the solution to suggest to "some mean old gossamer" whose firm has been bonded to build the model school house on the opposite side of the county from his own to let the lightning strike his own inferior school house and burn it down.

Problem 3. Seventy-five teachers required and seventy-five available: 25 of them one hundred dollars, first class teachers, 25 being seventy-five dollars, third grade teachers. Each local school board shall elect its own teacher, and be satisfied.—Solve.

Problem 4. Sufficient available funds in county school district for one first class high school. The six members of board, each living in and representing a different township, in which the people are "pulling" for the location of the high school, to determine on the location.—Solve. P. S. After the bitter fight on location of such high school, give some process by which to bond the entire county unit (by a vote of two to one) for Fifty or One Hundred Thousand dollars with which to erect and equip said building.

Problem 5. The best teacher in the county is assigned to teach in the district where a member of the County Board "happens" to reside. The poorest and cheapest teacher in the county is assigned to an adjoining district, which probably possesses more taxable wealth and more school children. The arrangement is to be shown to be fair and satisfactory.—Solve.

Problem 6. County school district assumes "all indebtedness of the component districts which shall exist on March 1, 1921," only. The school house is burned or torn down by cyclone (a number such conditions exist in the state today). Hundreds of school children are without a school house. There is a serious question as to the constitutionality of the law—so serious, in fact, that no investment company will buy bonds authorized by the county school district until the supreme court shall have passed upon the constitutionality of the law.—Solve.

Problem 7. Only 10 states have (or ever had) such a law; and every one of these 10 states rank far below Missouri educationally and intellectually—seven of them being the seven lowest ranking states in the union—states in which ignorance and illiteracy reign to such an extent that hundreds of districts do not have within their bounds three persons that can read or write to act as school directors (which is the logical reason for such a law in those "nigger" states, and the logical reason against it in Missouri); yet the lobbyists for this measure insist that it is "progressive educational legislation."—Solve.

Problem 8. The exactly centrally located geographically, only 10 states rank above Missouri in intelligence (literacy) of her citizens—the only valid test of her educational system, the percentage of illiteracy of the citizens of Missouri being but 4.3 per cent, that of the United States, 7.7 per cent, while the average illiteracy of the 10 states that have this law is 16.2 per cent. Yet the sponsors for this measure denounce them that are opposing, thus placing our state in the ranks of the most ignorant, illiterate, non-educational state of the Union, and insist instead upon the following of the lead of the states that rank above her, and are leading the world in education, as "opponents to the educational progress of Missouri."—Solve.

WALNUT GROWERS MARKET PRODUCT

THEIR WAS FIRST COOPERATIVE ORGANIZATION.

NOW MAKE LIVING PROFIT

Early History Was One Long Story of Low Prices, Ruinous Competition and Speculation.

(This is the second article in a series on co-operative marketing written for the International News Service by J. P. Langner, co-operative marketing adviser. The series will end with the fifth article.)

The two earliest co-operative organizations of any magnitude on the Pacific Coast were the orange and walnut growers of California. For the consumer to understand the problems confronting the growers of these two commodities it is necessary to understand the conditions surrounding the growers prior to the time the marketing associations were first organized.

The early history of the marketing of California's walnut crop is one long story of low prices—which left the grower without a profit at the end of the season—and vicious speculation.

The first walnuts were planted in California in 1861. By 1880 the crop of California walnuts amounted to approximately 500,000; in 1890 over 2,000,000 pounds and by 1920 approximately 30,000,000 pounds. Thus within forty years the quantity of walnuts produced in California alone had increased 5,000 per cent.

Prior to 1895, when the walnut crop was approximately three to four million pounds, the method of marketing was to sell to a group of speculators whose only interest was to buy walnuts from the grower at the lowest price and resell to the consumer at the highest price. The walnuts were not well cleaned, were not graded, were not even of good quality. In 1895 the growers of one district decided to market only a high quality walnut and to sell it directly on the New York market through one broker. Because it was putting out a uniform product it met with much success.

In 1896 three new associations were formed; in 1898 two more and by 1919 there were thirty-one co-operative walnut associations in California. Each of these associations now has established its own brand, its own grades, and its own particular methods of marketing through individual brokers. Each association appointed a different broker to handle its crop.

The result was that while the individuals in one district were not competing with each other, the district itself entered into the worst kind of competition with its next-door neighbor. Ruin once more stared the walnut growers in the face. Some brokers were strong financially, others were weak. At the beginning of the season it became the habit of all the brokers to get together and arbitrarily establish a price. For instance, one year the price established was 11½ cents a pound to the retailer. But some weak brokers, in order to hold their trade, reduced the price little by little until they had the price down to 9 cents, at which figure they showed a loss to the grower.

In 1912 the growers decided to eliminate competition between their districts and formed the California Walnut Growers' Association. The express purpose of this association is to market all the walnut crop through the one institution; to grade the entire crop so that any consumer buying California walnuts would be sure of getting walnuts fit to eat—every one of them—and to advertise their walnuts under a brand. Today the association markets annually 30,000,000 pounds of walnuts worth $12,000,000 dollars at least.

The industry has been kept alive—thousands of families live on the walnut industry—and it is an integral and basic part of agriculture in Southern California.

WILL CONDUCT SCHOOL FOR COMMERCIAL SECRETARIES

Northwestern University Offers Two Weeks' Training in Underlying Principles of Business.

Members of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce are greatly interested in the announcement that a national school for commercial secretaries will be conducted this summer at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill. The school will be conducted under the joint auspices of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries and Northwestern University.

The idea originated with the Secretaries' Association and received the warm approval of the National Chamber of Commerce and the University. The school term this summer will be two weeks, July 18-30, but it is planned that those pupils who wish to carry on the work through the year may be enabled to do so by means of correspondence courses. This part of the schedule has not been completed.

Secretaries of commercial organizations through the country will be enabled at the school to learn at first hand the practical methods employed by the most successful men in their line, and will also hear eminent experts lecture on the underlying principles of business and economics with which they need to be familiar in carrying on their work.

The mornings from 8 o'clock to 12 will be devoted to lectures and study hours. The afternoons, from 2 until 4 o'clock will be given to conferences between the students and the lecturers, which will resolve themselves into round table talks at which questions will be asked and answered. The curriculum will cover a wide range of subjects, from which the students may elect those they wish to pursue. It will be required, however, that each pupil take at least three of the fundamental subjects.

It is being arranged to give from three to five inspirational talks during the evenings of the two-week course. These will be on matters of general interest and will be open to the public. The cost of room and board probably will not exceed $2.50 a day for an individual. The tuition fee to be charged is only $30 and this will not suffice to pay more than 50 per cent of the expense, it is estimated. It was for this reason that the National Chamber and the Secretaries' Association pledged themselves to underwrite the school, on account of the pressing need for such a course and of their confidence in its usefulness.

The fundamental courses, as planned at present, include Government, Transportation and Traffic, Marketing and Distribution, Economics, Reports, Business and Government, Effective Speaking, Psychology, Business Organization and the Economic Basis of American History. In addition to these subjects, which will be given by some of the most eminent teachers in the country, there will be lectures by leading secretaries on technical subjects, directly related to the administration of a chamber of commerce.

PEOPLE HERE HAVE HEARTS SAYS MISS L. ANNA OWENS

Response To Appeal For Aid to Persons With Handicaps Is Generous With Those She Meets.

It has been easy to arouse sympathy among Maryville people for those who are handicapped, according to Miss L. Anna Owens, who organized the Nodaway County Association for the Handicapped. The organization now has seventy members.

Miss Owens spoke last night at the banquet of the Sunday school workers of Polk township and her hearers showed much interest. She met with the W. C. T. U. this afternoon and will speak to the C. W. B. M. next Friday.

"The response of those with whom I have come into contact has been very encouraging," says Miss Owens, "but I am handicapped in meeting people."

In her talk last night, she emphasized the importance of disseminating information about the state's schools for the handicapped. Many children have impairments but are neglected so that they do not learn of the institutions in time.

She pointed out the economic advantage to society in having these children educated and trained for self-support, aside from the great happiness which the training brings into their lives. She appealed for people to stand by the handicapped who are engaged in business, speaking of one man who was forced out of a livelihood by a more able-bodied man who had more up-to-date equipment.

"How terrible. Shame, shame, people cry," said Miss Owens, "but nobody does anything. We need an association which will look after such things. These associations are doing wonderful work in other places."

"Each association has a loan fund which is sometimes used to give a handicapped man or woman a start in business. I know of one man who borrowed just $175 and started a little confectionery stand. His business grew and he soon became able to support himself and his family in decency."

Because of the lack of time, no drive for members was made last night. In many counties, Miss Owens says, the more prosperous citizens have not contented themselves with dollar memberships but have made large lump donations toward the work of the association.
